	came together with great enthusiasm to contribute to this creative expression of civic awareness. The Wall Magazine served as a platform to highlight the importance of informed voting and responsible citizenship, reflecting the core values upheld by the Election Commission of India. The students showcased their artistic and literary talents by decorating the Wall Magazine with vibrant posters, sketches, slogans, and quotes centered around the theme of “Nothing Like Voting, I Vote for Sure.” Each contribution reflected a unique perspective on the significance of active participation in the democratic process. Messages promoting voter education, inclusivity, ethical voting, and youth engagement in elections were prominently displayed. The activity not only encouraged artistic expression but also instilled a deep sense of civic responsibility among the participants. Faculty coordinators from the ELC appreciated the creativity and dedication of the students, noting that the Wall Magazine served as an effective medium to raise awareness and generate dialogue around electoral participation. The initiative fostered a collaborative environment where students worked in teams, exchanged ideas, and learned about the roles and responsibilities of voters in a democracy. Overall, the Wall Magazine activity was a resounding success, drawing attention from faculty members, visitors, and students alike. It significantly contributed to the ongoing voter awareness campaign at the institute, aligning with the broader mission of building an informed and participative electorate. The ELC plans to continue such initiatives throughout the academic year to strengthen the democratic spirit among the youth.
