Report:

On November 4, 2024, TIAS students gathered at Khampur to participate in the Clean & Green Action Day, an initiative aimed at promoting environmental awareness and community responsibility. Organized by a dedicated researcher, the event provided a hands-on learning experience to instill sustainable practices and the importance of maintaining a clean environment.

The day began with an engaging introductory session where the researcher explained the significance of waste management, recycling, and the benefits of a green environment. Emphasis was placed on the adverse effects of pollution and the role each individual plays in preserving nature. This set the stage for a series of interactive activities designed to foster environmental stewardship.

Following the presentation, students participated in a community clean-up drive, which involved clearing litter from public spaces, segregating recyclable

	materials, and cleaning local parks. Their efforts were complemented by a tree-planting session that not only beautified the area but also contributed to long-term ecological balance. Educational materials and eco-friendly kits were distributed to ensure that the students could continue to practice and advocate for sustainable living beyond the event. Feedback from participants was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing a renewed commitment to environmental conservation. The Clean & Green Action Day succeeded in enhancing environmental literacy among TIAS students, while also demonstrating the power of collective action in creating a healthier, greener community. This initiative has set a benchmark for future events aimed at inspiring proactive environmental engagement among youth.
