PROMOTING INCLUSIVITY AND EQUITY

At Tecnia Institute of Advanced Studies, we are committed to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and accessible environment for all students, faculty, and staff. The Equal Opportunity Cell (EOC) plays a pivotal role in ensuring that the principles of gender equity and disability-friendly policies are integrated into every aspect of academic and campus life.

The main problems faced by people viewed as disabled, or with disabilities, or of minority status, stems from disabling environmental, economic and cultural barriers. Disability and minority are therefore equal rights issues on a par with other forms of unjustifiable discrimination and prejudices. The Equal Opportunity Cell was set up by the Institute to address these and other urgent issues concerning SC, ST, OBC and persons with disabilities (PwD) on 27th June, 2006.

INTRODUCTION

With the active involvement of Institute Innovation Council (setup under Ministry of HRD Initiative) of Tecnia Institute of Advanced Studies (TIAS Delhi), one of the Premier NAAC accredited "A" Grade Institute duly approved by AICTE, Ministry of HRD, Govt. of India & affiliated to Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University, Delhi; Recognized under Section 2(f) of UGC Act, 1956; ISO 9001:2015 & ISO 14001:2015 Certified Institute. Established in 1998 in country's capital, as an professional education center for MBA, BBA, BA(JMC) & BCA programmes, with an aim to provide technical knowledge required for career development of young generation for imparting quality education. IIC is also instrumental for setting up of ED Cell. Tecnia Incubator, so as "To become Job Creator and not to be Job Seekers".

An entrepreneur is an owner or manager of a business enterprise who makes money through risk and initiative. The term was originally a loanword from French and was first defined by the Irish-French economist Richard Cantillon. Entrepreneur in English is a term applied to a person who is willing to help launch a new venture or enterprise and accept full responsibility for the outcome. Jean-Baptiste Say, a French economist, is believed to have coined the word "entrepreneur" in the 19th century – he defined an entrepreneur as "one who undertakes an enterprise, especially a contractor, acting as intermediary between capital and labour". A broader definition by Say: "The entrepreneur shifts economic resources out of lower and into higher productivity and greater yield."

Entrepreneurship means different things to different people. Conceptually and in practice, the term hints of no stereotypical model. Yet its very etymology – derived from the French "entrepreneur" which literally means, "to undertake" – indicates the minimum characteristics of an entrepreneur. Entrepreneurship is the processes of creating or seizing an opportunity. The American Heritage Dictionary defines an entrepreneur to be "a person, who organizes, operates and assumes the risk of ventures." Entrepreneurship is the capacity and willingness to develop, organize and manage a business venture along with any of its risks in order to make a profit. The most obvious example of entrepreneurship is the starting of new businesses. In economics, entrepreneurship combined with land, labor, natural resources and capital can produce profit. Entrepreneurial spirit is characterized by innovation and risk-taking, and is an essential part of a nation's ability to succeed in an ever changing and increasingly competitive global marketplace.
