Agenda Points Discussed

1. Review of NSS Activities for 2025–26

The members reviewed the major NSS activities conducted during the previous academic session, highlighting achievements, student participation, community outreach, and areas requiring improvement. Suggestions were invited to strengthen the impact of future initiatives.

2. Planning of NSS Activities for 2026–27

The committee discussed and proposed activities for the new academic session, focusing on community development, environmental sustainability, health and hygiene awareness, digital literacy, women empowerment, social inclusion, and skill development for underprivileged communities. The importance of aligning activities with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UNSDGs) was also emphasized.

3. Scheduling of Major Events

The members discussed the proposed organization of the following activities during the academic session:

- Orientation and registration of new NSS volunteers.
- Cleanliness drives and environmental awareness campaigns.
- Tree plantation and water conservation activities.
- Blood donation camps and health awareness programmes.
- Digital literacy and online learning awareness campaigns.
- Community outreach programmes in adopted villages.
- Awareness campaigns on social issues, gender equality, and national importance.

4. Volunteer Recruitment and Training

The committee discussed strategies for enrolling new volunteers and ensuring active student participation across departments. The need for regular orientation, capacity-building sessions, leadership development, and training in community service was highlighted.

5. Budget Allocation and Resource Planning

The members reviewed the proposed NSS budget for the academic session 2026–27, including the allocation of funds for community outreach, awareness campaigns, environmental activities, and other planned initiatives. The committee emphasized the judicious utilization of available resources and proper documentation of expenditure.

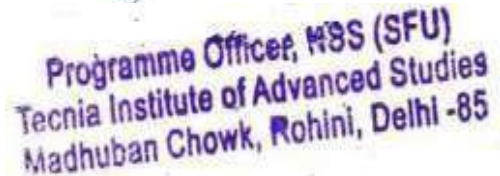

6. Feedback, Monitoring, and Documentation

The committee discussed establishing an effective mechanism for collecting feedback from volunteers and beneficiaries. Regular review meetings, activity reports, attendance records, photographs, and supporting documentation were emphasized to monitor progress and ensure continuous improvement.

Closure

The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks by the Chairperson, Ms. Ramika Verma, who expressed her sincere appreciation to all members for their valuable suggestions and active participation. The members reaffirmed their commitment to implementing meaningful NSS initiatives during the academic session 2026–27 to promote community welfare, social responsibility, environmental sustainability, and student development.
